Welcoming Taylor Mabe MSN- AGACNP-BC

We are pleased to welcome Taylor Mabe to our practice. Taylor obtained her nursing degree at Baylor University in Texas and worked in Dallas. She then obtained her Masters in Nursing at the University of Tennessee in Chattanooga before coming to Atlanta. She has worked extensively in the fields of cardiology and cardiovascular surgery.

Taylor will be assisting Dr Singh at both the John's Creek and Cumming office location as well as seeing patients in the nearby hospitals.

Nurse Practitioners have extensively trained and are licensed by the Georgia Composite Medical Board. They can see patients independently while under physician supervision. Always know that Dr Singh and Taylor communicate after each patient encounter to ensure optimal care.

We look forward to Taylor helping us keep our commitment to providing the best patient-centered, evidence-based, holistic cardiac care for our community!
